Bio- DATA

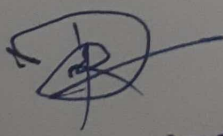

Mr. ravikant vemparala.

Born in Andhra pradesh, and brought up in Mumbai & Thane. Did his schooling from st. Joseph's high school, juhu, college from Bhavan's College, Andheri, and BE computers from RMCET, Mumbai University.

His first introduction to computer programming was in his first year of engineering, with Pascal. It became his passion and obsession immediately since then. Throughout engineering, instead of playing cricket and football in the evenings, he would spend his time in the lab trying out programs for various problems outside syllabus. He became so proficient due to this dedication; he won the first prize in two state level programming contests in his 2nd and 3rd year of engineering, in Aurangabad and Beed.

After passing out in 2002, he worked at various lesser known companies in Mumbai, Pune and Vashi, and 3 years in the US, all the time still practicing programing in his spare time. In 2016, he joined Google.

Currently he is working as senior software engineer in the Google Cloud group, in Sunnyvale, California.
