Report on Poster Presentation Competition in PARIKRAMAA 2K24

Date: 28th March, 2024.

Venue: At Corridor of BSH

Introduction:

Poster presentation competition held at Sanjeevan Engineering and Technology Panhala was an electrifying event showcasing the talent and enthusiasm of our newly admitted F.Y. B. Tech. students. Organized by the Department of Basic Sciences and Humanities in collaboration with the Radio Mirchi Kolhapur, the contest aimed to provide a platform for freshmen to exhibit their skills and to foster a sense of camaraderie within the college community.

Poster presentation competitions are an integral part of academic environments, particularly in engineering colleges, where they serve as platforms for students to showcase their research, innovative ideas, and projects. These competitions provide students with opportunities to enhance their communication skills, network with peers and professionals, and gain recognition for their work. This report outlines the significance, objectives, organization, and outcomes of a recent poster presentation competition held in an engineering college.

Significance: Poster presentation competitions play a crucial role in fostering a culture of innovation and research among engineering students. They encourage students to delve deeper into their areas of interest, conduct research, develop prototypes, and present their findings in a concise and visually appealing format. These competitions also promote interdisciplinary collaboration, as students from various engineering disciplines come together to share ideas and knowledge.

Objectives: The primary objectives of the poster presentation competition were:

1. To provide a platform for students to showcase their research projects, innovative ideas, and prototypes.
2. To enhance students' communication and presentation skills.

3. To foster collaboration and networking among students, faculty, and industry professionals.
4. To recognize and reward outstanding student projects and innovations.
5. To promote a culture of research and innovation in the engineering college.

Organization: The poster presentation competition was organized by the college's academic committee in collaboration with various student clubs and industry partners. The organizing committee comprised faculty members, student representatives, and industry experts who oversaw the planning, coordination, and execution of the event.

The competition was open to all undergraduate and postgraduate students enrolled in engineering programs at the college. Participants were required to submit abstracts of their projects or research papers for review by a panel of judges. Shortlisted candidates were then invited to present their work in the form of posters during the competition.

The posters were evaluated based on criteria such as content clarity, visual appeal, technical depth, novelty of ideas, and oral presentation skills. The judging panel comprised faculty members, industry professionals, and experts from relevant fields who provided valuable feedback to the participants.

Outcomes: The poster presentation competition witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various engineering disciplines. The event provided a platform for students to showcase a wide range of innovative projects and research findings, spanning areas such as renewable energy, artificial intelligence, robotics, sustainable infrastructure, and more.

Participants demonstrated excellent communication skills and technical knowledge while presenting their posters to the judges and attendees. The competition also facilitated meaningful interactions and networking opportunities among students, faculty, and industry professionals, paving the way for potential collaborations and partnerships.

Several outstanding projects were recognized and awarded prizes based on their merit and impact. The competition not only celebrated student achievements but also inspired others to pursue research and innovation in their respective fields.

Conclusion: The poster presentation competition in the engineering college proved to be a resounding success, fulfilling its objectives of fostering innovation, promoting communication skills, and facilitating collaboration among students. Such events play a vital role in nurturing a culture of research and innovation, ultimately contributing to the academic and professional development of engineering students. It is imperative to continue organizing such competitions to inspire and empower the next generation of engineers to push the boundaries of knowledge and technology.
